Leonard Is Encouraged.

Mr. Leonard said he saw nothing but encouragement in the recurs. He thought it would be necessary for him to revise his former predictions on the Democratic majority by increasing them 25 per cent. It will be remembered that at the last county election the Democratic licket won in every precinct, the total majorities ranging from 1.80 to 2.485. Yesterday's registration will increase these pluralities so that the Democratic committeemen felt perfectly safe in prophesying a majority for the head of the ticket of not less than 2.50 votes.

The Republicans professed to feel jubilant, but a close observer could see that their exhibitant was all on the surface. In using their carriages they took overy doubtful voter they could find to the polls and marked each one of such persons down as Republicans. There was, of course, no warrant for much action, but it made the returns have a better showing.

Forgot Ninetern Lannanites. Leonard Is Encouraged.

Forgot Ninetern Lannanites,

A great boast was made of the effect, iveness of the Republican organization, How effective it was is shown by the fact that in one building alone, the Hotel Miller, nineteen straightout Republicans were allowed to go unregistered. Another interesting fact is that many Democratic voters were taken in Republican carriages to the places of registration.

In the Twenty-seventh, a fine-looting old woman were in to take the oath, She had just come up in one of Mr. Eichner's rigs, and the registration agent said, smilingly: "They bringing out a lot of you Republicans to day." To his surprise, the woman replied, with some heart. "I'm not a Republican, I thank you; I'm a Democrat." There were other instances of the same character, but this will do as a sample. They overlooked these things when they talked the day over at Republican headquarters.

It want to make a prediction," said Arthur Pratt. "Now that the last of the resistration is over, I want to predict that well carry the Fourth precinct—that's my precinct. you know—by 500 majority." The ex-chief insisted that out of the 2,300 new voters that out of the 2,300 new voters that out of the 2,300 new voters that if the Lamanites could get out their vote they would win hands down.

A Democrat who heard of the Republican Jubilation went up to hendquarters, thinking he could pick up a few bets. Not one could he find. The boys were perfectly willing to brag, but when it came to laying down their good money, they weakened.

Taken as a whole, the registration was most satisfactory from a Democratic standpoint. Arthur F. Barnes, cratic—standpoint. Arthur F. Barnes, cratic—standpoint.
